3. Reports
3.1 President’s report
The President’s report was noted. Caitlyn began by reminding members that this was her last meeting with the MGAEC, and thanked the outgoing committee members for their contributions, and the MGA staff for their commitment, expertise and support.

Caitlyn added a further update to her report on the issue of JD students’ access to online lectures; after some pressure from the MGA and LSS the Law Faculty had recently agreed to place recordings of JD lectures online for all students to access. However JD electives had not been included so Caitlyn had recently escalated the matter to the DVC(Education), requesting that the Law Faculty’s decision not to allow JD students access to recordings of electives be reconsidered, especially in light of the fact that many students were forced to isolate due to Covid. A response had not yet been received.

3.2 Members’ reports
Written reports submitted by members were noted.

3.3 Staff report
It was noted that some of the MGA events had low attendance, and a concern was raised about whether these events were cost effective. It was explained that while the MGA ran some large scale events, such as the free lunches, other events catered to graduate students’ desire to develop friendships with other graduate students. This sometimes meant having smaller numbers which allowed events to be structured in such a way as to enable students to make genuine connections with each other. The MGA research shows that many graduate students rate making social connections as a high priority, and they also want tailored events, where they can meet like-minded graduate students, eg other graduate parents, LGBTIQ&A graduates etc. Many of these regular small events run by the MGA were low-cost but provided very important opportunities for those attending and looking for social engagement.

3.4 May 2022 profit and loss report
The May profit and loss report was noted.

3.5 MGAEC meeting attendance records
The MGAEC meeting attendance records were noted. Caitlyn reminded members that attending the monthly MGAEC meetings was an important responsibility of all members, and that their regular attendance enabled the association to remain functional.

3.6 MGA Sustainability report
Held over.

4. Business
4.1 Business arising
4.1.1 MGA Annual General Meeting
The minutes of the Annual General Meeting of the MGA held on Thursday 19 May by zoom were noted by the committee.

4.1.2 MGA annual audit report

4.1.3 MGA members’ retreat
The committee was informed that the annual MGAEC retreat had been confirmed to be held at the Yarra Valley Lodge, with a departure on Friday 12 August, and return on Saturday 13 August. All outgoing and incoming MGAEC members had been invited, and further details would be provided closer to the event. All members were encouraged to attend as the retreat provided an opportunity for the committee to work together to plan the following year’s activities, as well as including training sessions and the August MGAEC meeting.

4.1.4 MGA semester 2 orientation program
Members were presented with the plans for MGA orientation sessions and activities to be delivered across all four campuses. Incoming members in particular were encouraged to volunteer with sessions running on their own campuses, as a way to contribute to the events and to see the MGA orientation activities in action.

4.2 General Business
4.2.1 MGA Hoodies
Members were reminded to collect an MGA hoodie, and encouraged to wear the hoodies around campus so they could be identified as MGAEC members as well as to promote the MGA.

4.2.2 MGA annual ball
It was announced that the ball would be held on Saturday 20 August at the Park Hyatt hotel in Melbourne. As part of their role on the MGAEC, outgoing and incoming committee members were eligible for one ticket each to attend the ball.

Additionally, the marketing team was seeking three MGAEC members (incoming or outgoing) to be part of the judging panel for the MGA competition asking students to submit in 25 words or less who they would bring to the ball and why. The prize was for two tickets to the MGA Annual Ball. Members were requested to indicate their interest in being considered as a panel member. Phil, Lily and Anumanth expressed interest.

4.2.3 MGA papers to GRC steering committee
The MGA had submitted two papers to GRC steering committee for consideration: one on extending the GRCA eligibility to students who had passed the 4 year candidature mark; and one requesting a relaxation of the requirement to fulfil on campus attendance requirements within the business week. Once considered by the steering committee, both requests would be forwarded to GRC for a final decision. The request to extend GRCA eligibility to 4.5 years had been attempted by the MGA over a year ago and refused. However, a recent change in GRC Chair had opened up the possibility of having this proposal successfully reconsidered.

4.2.4 MGA feedback on the APC process
The MGA advocacy team had provided feedback on the APC process with suggestions for improvement and submitted this document to Professor Rob Brooks, Academic Board Chair, as part of an APC review process being conducted by the University.
